Preview of Summer 2004 Seminar in Wilmington, NC

Plans are being made for the 2004 Summer Seminar to be held in Wilmington, NC at The Wilmingtonian. This unique hotel is located in the heart of historic downtown Wilmington just two blocks from the banks of the Cape Fear River. The central business district, museums, galleries, antique shops, boutiques, fine restaurants, coffee shops and local nightspots are within easy walking distance.

With extensive gardens, ponds, courtyards and balconies, The Wilmingtonian offers a haven of tranquility amidst the bustle of the old port city. Take a tour by visiting the website at:
www.thewilmingtonian.com.

The immediate area offers a variety of interesting walking tours, horse and carriage rides, historic home visits and riverboat tours. The Cape Fear Museum showcases local history, and Thalian Hall, a beautiful theater built in 1855, offers a variety of performing arts. The Wilmington Railroad Museum provides a trip back to the days when the town was a major railway center, and the Battleship North Carolina, just across the river, highlights another era.

The spacious deluxe one and two-bedroom suites are individually designed and furnished in styles ranging from country French to the warm desert colors of Arizona, with themes ranging from maritime to classic movietime.

The dates for the seminar are June 20-22, 2004. The number of available rooms is limited, so you will want to make your reservations early. Clark will provide more information including room rates at the Fall Seminar in Myrtle Beach. □
